World Statistics Day

The US will celebrate World Statistics Day on October, 20, 2010, with an event in Washington, DC that highlights the capabilities and achievements of our federal statistical system. The event will highlight the release of a special volume of the Annals of the American Academy of Political and Social Science, and will feature remarks by current Census Director Robert Groves, former Census Director Kenneth Prewitt and others. Katherine Wallman, chief statistician of the US will be the emcee. Co-sponsors are the American Academy of Political and Social Science (AAPSS), the American Statistical Association (ASA), the Committee on National Statistics (CNSTAT), the Consortium of Social Science Associations (COSSA), the Council of Professional Associations on Federal Statistics (COPAFS), the Interagency Council on Statistical Policy (ICSP) and NISS.

World Statistics Day, which occurs on the date that in most countries would be written 20-10-2010, is an initiative of the UN. For details, click here.
