

Leadership Webinar Series

ANNE QU

University of California at Santa Barbara

Professor of Statistics and Applied Probability

TIANXI CAI

Harvard University

John Rock Professor of Population and Translational Data Sciences,
Department of Biostatistics at Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health

with moderator
Bei Jiang

University of Alberta & COPSS
Leadership
Academy

Topic: From Asymptotics to Action: How Statistics Should Lead in the AI Era

Statistics and AI form a two-way street: AI can accelerate statistical discovery, and statistical guarantees make AI reliable in practice.

This discussion asks where and how Statistics should lead and explore priorities, methodologies, and the most impactful opportunities for leadership.

TUESDAY, OCT 28, 2025
12-1 P.M. ET / 9-10 A.M. PT

NO FEE, ZOOM
PRE-REGISTRATION REQUIRED

<https://www.niss.org/events/copss-niss-leadership-webinar-asymptotics-action-how-statistics-should-lead-ai-era>

